A NECESSITY SUPPLIED.

The fire department of this city has been in great need of a better and larger supply of hose for use in fighting fires, and they have once or twice been badly hampered on this account. We are glad to say that this necessity has been supplied. This week 800 feet of first-class hose have been delivered the boys. They are feeling lots more comfortable.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Will Open Season of 1905-6 Monday, August 28. With Week of Popular Price Repertoire.

The Ever Popular Harris-Parkinson Stock Company Will be the Opening Attraction.

Monday night, August 28, the theatrical season will be opened in Frankfort by the popular Harris-Parkinson Co., in a repertoire of new comedies and dramas interspersed with high class vaudeville acts at the people's popular prices—10, 20 and 30 cents. This company made a great hit in Frankfort last season and the season before and comes back this season with an acting company of 23 people and a carload of special scenery.

Manager McNamara has had a large force at work during the past few days getting the Capitol Theatre in shape for the opening, and several noticeable improvements will be made the coming week.

The new drop curtain which is to be furnished by the Lee Lash Co. of New York, will arrive in a few days and will be the most artistic ever seen here. The new drop street presenting Main street from Elk Place to St. Clair St., looking west, is finished and will be ready for use Monday night.

Manager McNamara states that the bookings at Capitol Theatre are the most notable ever presented at this popular play house, and represent the cream of the popular operas of the day, musical comedies and dramas. A number of notable stars have been booked and will appear here during the season of 1905-6.

BUSINESS MEN TO VISIT CINCINNATI.

The Business Men's Club, to the number of about 100, will return the visit of Cincinnati Business Men's Club on Thursday, September 14. This was settled at the meeting of the Club held on Thursday night, in the Collins building.

It is expected that this affair will be productive of great good in bringing the two organizations into closer touch.

Too much credit can not be given President Geo. B. Harper for bringing about the arrangement.

MRS. HUGH R. AYRES' WILL.

We clip the following from the Louisville Herald, giving a summary of the will of Mrs. Effie L. Ayres, who died last week:

The will of Effie L. Ayres, dated July 3, 1905, was admitted to probate yesterday. The instrument disposes of an estate the value of which is not definitely known, though it is supposed to be in the neighborhood of $15,000.

The will leaves $500 to Alice May Ayres, a sister; $300 to Albert L. Maxey, a cousin, and the residue to Edward L. Ayres, a son. The testatrix asks that this son, who is an infant, be placed with George E. Ayres, a cousin, to be reared and educated, and that the Fidelity Trust Company shall qualify as his guardian. It is stated that the boy has also some estate left him by his father. Geo. E. Ayres is left $100 a year.

In the event of the death of Edward L. Ayres before he reaches his majority, without issue, the property is to be divided as follows: To Thomas Burge Ayres, $1,000 (this legatee is the father of the testatrix); to Luella A. Hufferberger, a sister, $500; to Elizabeth Ayres Pedigo, $500; to George E. Ayres, $500; to Wilbur T. Ayres, $500 (these legatees are cousins); to the Highland Presbyterian Church $500, and the residue is to be equally divided between Alice Mae Ayres and Albert L. Maxey, cousins.

It is thought that some of the provisions of this will conflicts with that of her husband, Mr. H. R. Ayres, who died only a few months since. There are a number of residuary heirs to the estate in this community.

THE JOHNSTOWN FLOOD.

The flood which devastated Johnstown, Pa., and the Conemaugh Valley, May 31, 1889, is shown in cycloramic form at Atlantic City, with a vividness bordering on actuality. On the Broad walk, opposite the Steel Pier, there has been constructed a building for this production which affords every facility for this purpose. It is open to the public every day and evening, except the Sabbath, at hourly intervals this great historical drama will be enacted. The building, which cost $50,000, has a frontage of 150 feet, and extends outwardly so as to give a frontage of 180 feet for the stage, the largest of the kind in the country. It is owned by Mr. Randolph McNutt, of Buffalo, N. Y., and is under the management of Harry D'Esta. There is an enormous electric light plant with prisms and color screens attached and so arranged as to give a wonderfully realistic effect to the rushing waters and upturned land. There are drawing rooms decorated with choice paintings depicting interesting scenes; retiring rooms and cozy smoking rooms, in this way those awaiting entrance to the auditorium can pass the time without annoyance or inconvenience. Of the cycloramic drama it can be said to be simply marvelous in its realism. Real water seems to be rushing down the valley from South Fork Dam, houses seem to tumble and be carried away by the flood, the surging waters seem to rise up over the Conemaugh bridge and whirl around Sang Hollow signal station. There is shown Johnstown as it was before the flood, as it appeared during the flood, as it was after the flood and as it is today. The celebrated Cambria Iron Works and the Gaultier Wire Works are shown as are also the hills on the opposite side of the town on which the people sought safety. John Baker, the brave hero, is shown as he dashed down the valley from the broken dam, shouting to the people to flee from the coming tidal wave. The St. Louis day express, which was caught in the flood, and the first section which ran out of the death trap, also hold an important place in the exhibition.

BURNED TO DEATH.

The little child of Mr. Rolla Kavanaugh, section foreman on the F. & C. Railway, living at Stamping Ground, was so unfortunate as to get hold of some matches, on Wednesday last, and set fire to its clothing, burning it so badly that it died that afternoon at 5 o'clock.

The sympathy of many friends is extended to the afflicted family.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

Bids for whole building and also for separate parts of building will be received until 10 o'clock a. m. Thursday, August 31, 1905, for the construction of a three-story 12-room brick schoolhouse. Plans and specifications can be seen at the office of L. L. Oberwarth, the architect, or by calling on the undersigned. The right is reserved to reject any and all bids. Address all communications and bids to L. B. Marshall, Secretary Board of Education, Frankfort, Ky.

A GOOD NIGHT'S REST

"Speak for it!" she cried to doggie, For she knew in her little heart, That German Syrup, home's great treasure, Could health and joy impart.

"The greatest tonic on earth is a good night's rest. Restless nights and the terrible exhaustion of a hacking cough are dread dangers of the poor consumptive. But why this fear of the night when a few doses of Dr. Boschee's German Syrup will insure refreshing sleep, entirely free from cough or night sweat? Free expectoration in the morning is made certain by taking German Syrup. We know by the experience of over thirty-five years that one 75-cent bottle of German Syrup will speedily relieve or cure the worst coughs, colds, bronchial or lung troubles—and that, even in bad cases of consumption, one large bottle of German Syrup will work wonders. Two sizes, 25c and 75c. All druggists.
